HAGUE, March 27.

ADVICE has just been received from Petersburgh, that Lieutenant Tinne, who had been sent from hence with the ratification of the treaty of armed neutrality, arrived there on the third instant; that the ratification was signed the next day by the Empress; and the Charge d'Affaires of his Danish Majesty there had received orders from his Court to sign the act of ratification, as soon as the ratification of this Republic has been exchanged for that of the Court of Russia.

We are informed, that the courier which their High Mightinesses dispatched the 23d instant to Petersburgh carried the answer of the States General to the Memorial of Prince de Gallitzin. This answer is in substance, "That the Republic desires nothing more than a peace on reasonable terms, and such as will not be prejudicial to its honour and dignity; that their High Mightinesses are ready to enter on a negociation with Prince de Gallitzin, as soon as they shall be informed that Great-Britain is inclinable thereto; that their High Mightinesses mean not to depart from the system of armed neutrality and free navigation, as proposed on the 20th of February, 1780, by her Imperial Majesty, to the neutral powers; but that they will stedfastly persist in it, flattering themselves, that her Imperial Majesty's greatness of soul will not suffer that system of neutrality to be affected, in case the negociation, contrary to all hopes, should not be attended with the desired success; and in that case her Imperial Majesty, in conjunction with the other confederates, will let the Republic enjoy the real effects of their engagements."

LONDON.

Four expresses have been dispatched to Admiral Rodney within ten days. The purport of those expresses related to the sailing, and supposed destination of the Brest fleet.

April 12. The anticipation gained by the French, in sending out succours to India, will afford them a great ascendancy over our present distracted and defenceless situation in that quarter.

The sole defence of this island depends on the safe return of Darby's fleet; and therefore every thinking man among us must shudder at the danger to which it is exposed. Clinton might fly for a time before Washington, and Munro before Hyder Ali, without any great inconvenience, but a victory over Admiral Darby might give a mortal stab to the independence of this country.

Mr. Laurens has now the liberty of walking round the ramparts, and other places of the Tower, which he generally does twice a day, attended by one of the wardens, and enjoys a good state of health. Mr. la Motte is close confined to his room; owing, it is said, to his having attempted some time ago to make his escape; he has no other opportunity of taking the air than from a balcony belonging to his apartment, appears extremely sulky, and does not like to be spoke to.

May 1. It is confidently reported, that Lord North will retire upon the rising of Parliament, and be created Duke of Kent, and Marquis of Rye.

Three thousand land forces are to be sent off forthwith, for the better security of the British settlements in the East-Indies.

May 3. Sir Chaloner Ogle, lately arrived from America, who was made an Admiral in the last promotion, is to be second in command of the squadron of observation now collecting at Portsmouth under Admiral Parker, who is to be the chief.

Extract of a letter from Limerick, April 16.

"Yesterday the Enterprize privateer of London, mounting 36 guns, commanded by Capt. Eden, brought into our river the Louisiana, a large American vessel, mounting 20 six pounders, laden with bale goods, and bound from l'Orient to Philadelphia. A Swedish vessel from Nantz is also brought in by Capt. M'Carthy, and if her cargo is proved to be French, she will be condemned."

May 4. Advice was received at the Admiralty office last night at 11 o'clock, that Commodore Hotham, with all the St. Eustatia prizes, were safe arrived in the Channel, or just off Plymouth. This important information has not been received officially at the Admiralty from the Commodore, but the account was sent to Lord Sandwich by a gentleman, who is a principal Agent for the prizes. An officer is hourly expected to arrive with Commodore Hotham's dispatches.

Caveats have been entered at the Commons, preparatory to the captors applying for the condemnation of the prizes, and every article of the property will be warmly contested.

The member for a city in Scotland, we hear, upon application to Lord George Germaine, respecting the British property seized at St. Eustatia, was informed by his Lordship, that it would all be restored to the owners, except what was contraband.

BOSTON, July 5.

By a person from the Eastward last Friday, we have an account, that General Wadsworth and Major Burton made their escape from the enemy at Bagaduce, in the following manner, viz.—They saw'd a hole through the roof of the apartment in which they were confined, and had determined to wait till a gust of wind, or a thunder storm should come on, when they supposed the sentries would take shelter from the same; which a day or two after happening, they embraced the opportunity of throwing off the scuttle, and tying their blankets together, lowered themselves to the ground, and by that means made their escape. The General arrived in town last Saturday evening.

Yesterday being the fifth year of the anniversary of the glorious Independency of America, the day was ushered in by the ringing of bells, &c. At twelve o'clock, the batteries in town, Castle-Island, and ships in the harbour perform'd their firing, and at one o'clock the ships of His Most Christian Majesty. May the anniversary of American Independency be celebrated 'till time shall be no more.

Saturday last returned into this harbour, His Most Christian Majesty's frigate le Survillante, of 36 guns, after 20 days passage from Cape-Francois.—The second night after she sailed, she fell in with a British frigate of 44 guns, when an engagement commenced which lasted two hours and an half, when she beat the frigate off —In the engagement, it is said, the le Survillante had 18 men killed, and about 40 wounded.—How many the British lost is not yet ascertained, though it is thought she met with the rubbers, otherwise it is presumed she would not have quitted the combat.

Captain Davis, who arrived here last Saturday, in 17 days from Martinico, informs, That a vessel arrived there from Count De Grass, with intelligence that the Count had taken Tobago and invested Barbados, where the British fleet, consisting of 17 sail of the line, had taken shelter.—Count De Grass's fleet consists of 26 sail of the line besides frigates, and he had landed 10,000 troops on the island; so that in a few days we may expect intelligence of importance from that quarter.

Saturday last Capt. Tyler arrived here, in 48 days from Cadiz. By this vessel we learn, that on the appearance of the British fleet for the relief of Gibraltar, the Spaniards opened their batteries (consisting of about 40 mortars, and between 3 and 400 cannon) on the besieged, which soon made the lower town too hot for them. when they took to the eminence. This the besiegers, we learn, would not have done, had it not been for the relief, as they were daily in expectation of the garrison surrendering. However, the British fleet supplied the garrison, and had sailed for England.—Eight days before Capt Tyler left Cadiz, the Spanish fleet sailed in quest of the Havannah fleet, which was expected in those seas, in order to convoy them into safe port; among which, 'tis said, was a flota of immense value. On the 5th of April, a ship of 16 guns, bound to Gibraltar from Lisbon, loaded with provisions, taken by a Spanish frigate, arrived at Cadiz. The 10th of April the British fleet, consisting of 28 sail of the line, commanded by Admiral Darby, arrived at Gibraltar, supplied the garrison with provisions, and sailed from thence the 21st.

Commodore Johnson was to sail from England with the grand fleet, consisting of 12 sail, including frigates and sloops, on the 20th of April, to convoy the East and West-India fleets out.

On the 27th of April a Dutch East-Indiaman richly laden, was met with at sea by two French frigates, and the Dutchmen not knowing of a war between Holland and England, the frigates safely conducted her into Cadiz; and going out again on their cruize, a few days after they fell in with two 20 gun ships, viz. the Charlotte from London, and Phœnix from Bristol (in concert) which they captured and carried into Cadiz. The same day sailed a 74 gun ship and two frigates, who two days after captured a ship and snow bound to England from Gibraltar, with a great number of women and children, which had also safe arrived at Cadiz. The 1st of May the Spanish fleet, consisting of 29 sail of the line, sailed from Cadiz, and were to be joined by the above 74 and frigates, whose destination was unknown.

From all places through which the French troops have passed, in their route from Newport, we hear nothing but encomiums on their good behaviour, and the excellent discipline of their army, which yet is mantained with little severity and military executions. None of those complaints that were formerly so much occasioned by the British soldiery, of insolent, overbearing, licentious officers, and drunken, pilfering and robbing soldiers. Every care has ben taken to put the inhabitants to as little inconvenience as circumstances would allow, who could not before conceive that such a number of men in arms could occasion so little disturbance and trouble. Wherever they come they make hard money plenty, with which they pay punctually for all they want, and enrich the country as they pass through it. To this they add a very civil behaviour; all which make them welcome when they arrive, and regretted when they part. What the French navy and army have already spent among us has been an immense accession of wealth to us; has given us an advantageous remittance for supplies from abroad; quickened and enlarged the circulation of business at home; and greatly enhanced the value of our own produce.

Last Tuesday was taken in our bay, Capt. Greely, in a ship from Cadiz bound to this port, with a valuable cargoe on board. Capt. M'Neil, who sailed in company with Capt. Greely, arrived here yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in the neighbourhood of Williamsburg, dated July 9, 1781.

"The enemy have plundered several people in this neighbourhood. They are now encamped at James-Town, and we daily expect a general engagement, if it has not already happened. General Wayne was engaged with them the 6th instant, and had 200 men killed and wounded, 12 officers missing. They took two field pieces from him, one of which was re-taken, and the other would have been recovered, but the horses were shot down. The battle was fought in the old field by James-Town Church. We had only three brigades engaged. The enemy's loss cannot be ascertained; some accounts say 3 or 400 killed and wounded."

Extract of a letter from Fredericksburg, July 10.

"It is this day reported that a very smart action happened on Friday last near Williamsburg, between the British and General Wayne, wherein both sides lost a number of men, but as the particulars which have come to hand cannot be depended upon, must wait for a confirmation, which we hourly expect. It is also said our army was skirmishing all Saturday, that the enemy have crossed James River, and that our army was on their march to Richmond."

Extract of a letter from St. Thomas, dated June 26.

"Tobago is certainly taken, and, strange to tell, nobody plundered; not a Rodney or a Vaughan in the whole French army to be found. Pondicherry, in the East-Indies, taken, and it is said the whole of the fleet from Statia are taken by the combined fleets."

Extract of a letter from Boston, dated July 2, 1781.

"The 30th of last month arrived in this port a schooner, in 17 days passage from Martinique. The Captain reports, that two days before his departure, a transport ship from the army under the command of Count de Grasse arrived at that island with the news, that that General officer had taken Tobago from the English, and had blocked up Barbados, where Mr. de Bouille had made a descent with 6000 regular troops. Rodney is at Barbados with 17 ships of the line, and his situation is such, that he cannot avoid an engagement with the French Admiral, who has under his command 24 ships of the line. There was in Tobago 17 vessels, richly loaded, when the French took possession of it."

The brig Mercury, Capt. Palmer, is returned into this port, having suffered considerable damage in the thunder storm on Tuesday last, she then lying in Delaware-bay, outward bound. Both her masts were so much shattered by lightning as to render them useless, and 6 of her men were at the same time much hurt; one of them, we hear, is now in a dangerous situation.

His Excellency the President of Congress has appointed David Witherspoon, jun. and Samuel Sterret, Esqrs. his private Secretaries.

On the 28th of June, a day celebrated at Charlestown for the victory over Clinton and Parker, in 1776, the privateer sloop Lord North, belonging to Messrs. Goodrich and Co. lying in Charlestown harbour, was struck with lightning; by which accident she sunk, and the men (70 in number) were with difficulty saved.

The Hon. Samuel Adams, Elbridge Geary, James Lovell, Artemas Ward, George Partridge and Samuel Osgood, Esquires, are appointed to represent the Commonwealth of Massachusetts-Bay in the Congress of the United States.

 The Members of the American Philosophical Society are desired to meet at the Library Chamber, on Friday evening, the 20th instant.

Ten Hard Dollars Reward.

RUN AWAY this morning from the subscriber, A certain Negroe Woman, called BETT, of middle stature, about 21 years of age: Had on a straw hat, covered with green silk, a long red striped calicoe gown, a brown linsey petticoat, a striped lawn apron; as she took with her a black calimancoe petticoat and many other articles, it is probable she will change her dress; she also took with her a female child, of about three years of age: It is supposed she is either in Philadelphia or gone towards Virginia in company with two white men. Whoever takes her up, and secures her in any goal, that her master may have her again, shall have the above reward, and all reasonable charges, if brought home, paid by Burlington, July 9. ‡ JACOB PHILLIPS.

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.

SIR, Camp before Ninety-Six, June 9, 1781.

I WROTE your Excellency on the 29th of May, and inclosed the capitulation and surrender of the garrison of Fort Dreadnought, and an account of a small action at Augusta. On the 5th of this instant Fort Cornwallis surrendered. Inclosed is General Pickens and Lieutenant Colonel Lee's report of the capitulation, and an account of the stores and prisoners.

The very great exertions that were made by General Pickens and Lieutenant Colonel Lee, and the troops under their command, particularly the Legion, deserve the highest honor, and I hope will meet the approbation of Congress.

Inclosed is General Marion's report of the evacuation of George-Town. The enemy now have no fortified posts either in South-Carolina or Georgia, except Charlestown and Savannah.

I have the honor to be with great respect,
Your Excellency's most obedient humble servant,
NATHANIEL GREENE."

His Excellency Samuel Huntington, Esquire.

"SIR Camp in Augusta, June 5, 1781.

"In our separate dispatches of last month we communicated the events which led to the siege of Fort Cornwallis. From that period the most vigorous exertions have been used, attended with incessant labour, to advance our approaches with rapidity.

"A perfect circumvallation was nearly compleated, with three issues from it, communicating with the enemy's fosse. Several batteries were erected, one near 30 feet high, which gave us entire command of their works, and two rifle citadels we formed within 30 yards of their parapet. In this situation, it was our determination to have forced a lodgement in the different curtains, from which establishment we might with readiness and certainty of success have referred the issue of the contest to the bayonet. The judicious, vigilant and gallant conduct of the garrison deprived us of many advantages which we wished to have seized in the course of our operations, and which would have tended to have shortened the siege. At nine o'clock in the morning proposals were received from Col. Brown, which we have the honour to transmit, with the capitulation which took place, and all other official communications. Returns of the public stores, artillery and prisoners are also enclosed.

"It is out of our power to do justice to the efforts of the officers of every rank, and to the chearful patience with which their exertions were supported by their faithful soldiers. The Colonels Clarke, Harding and Hammond, with their militia, were essentially serviceable.

"Capt. Rudolph, with the officers of the infantry of the Legion, have distinguished themselves as usual. Capt. Smith, who commanded the North-Carolina corps, was specially useful by his activity and attention, and the gentlemen under him behaved perfectly soldier-like. We derived every possible aid from the artillery under Capt. Finley, and beg leave to express our obligations to that gentleman, his officers and soldiers.

"The legion cavalry have participated fully in the variety of service, and have been essentially serviceable, by the animation and zeal with which they performed their share of the toil.

"Our loss has not been very considerable, and by no means proportionate to the warmth of the contest. The amiable and gallant Major Eaton fell in our first advance; the regret which we feel on this occasion is very distressing, and can be experienced only by those who knew his worth. What adds to our sorrow and excites our indignation is, that we have reason to believe that this patriotic soldier fell a sacrifice after surrender. A very pointed correspondence took place on this subject between Lieut. Col. Lee, under whose command the Major was, and Lieut. Col. Brown; a further enquiry will now commence, and attonement shall be made for the impious deed.

"Doctor Irvine, of the legion, has the honour to bear this letter. During the important operations in this State, by the issue of which the capital of Georgia, with a large extent of territory, is recovered from its late subjugation, we have experienced great utility from this gentleman's zealous exertions, and take the liberty to recommend him to your particular notice. We have the honour to be, Sir, with the highest sentiments of respect,

Your obedient humble servants,
ANDREW PICKENS, B. G. of Militia,
HENRY LEE, jun. Commandant of Continental Troops.

Major General GREENE."

(No. 1.)

SIR, Augusta, May 31, 1781.

THE usage of war renders it necessary that we present you with an opportunity of avoiding the destruction which impends your garrison.

We have deferred our summons to this late date, to preclude the necessity of much correspondence on the occasion. You see the strength of the investing forces, the progress of our works, and you may inform yourself of the situation of the two armies, by enquiries from Capt. Armstrong, of the Legion, who has the honour to bear this. We have the honour to be, Sir,

Your most obedient servants,
ANDREW PICKENS, B. G. Mil.
HENRY LEE, jun. Lieut. Col.
Lieut. Col. Brown. commanding Cont. troops.

(No. 2.)

Gentlemen,

WHAT progress you have made in your works I am no stranger to. It is my duty and inclination to defend this post to the last extremity. I have the honour to be,

Gentlemen, your most obedient servant,
THO. BROWN, Lieut. Col. commanding
King's troops at Augusta.

To B. Gen. Pickens, and
Lieut. Col. Lee.

(No. 3.)

SIR,

IT is not our disposition to press the unfortunate.

To prevent the effusion of blood, which must follow a perseverance in your fruitless resistance, we inform you that we are willing, tho' in the grasp of victory, to grant such terms as a comparative view of our respective situations can warrant.

Your determination will be considered as conclusive, and will regulate our future conduct. We have the honour to be, Your most obedient humble servants,
ANKREW PICKENS, B. G. M.
HENRY LEE, jun. Lieut. Col. com.
Lieut. Col. Brown. Cont. Troops.

(No. 4.)

Gentlemen, Fort Cornwallis, June 3, 1781.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your summons of this day, and to assure you, that as it is my duty, it is likewise my inclination to defend the post to the last extremity. I have the honour to be, Gentlemen, Your most obedient and most humble servant,
THO. BROWN, Lieut. Col. commanding K. T. at Augusta.

B. G. Pickens,
Lieut. Col. Lee.

(No. 5.)

SIR, Head-Quarters, June 4, 1781.

WE beg leave to propose that the prisoners in your possession may be sent out of the fort, and that they be considered yours or ours, as the siege may terminate.

Confident that you cannot oppose this dictate of humanity and custom of war, we have only to say, that any request of a similar nature from you will meet our ready assent. We have the honour to be, &c.

ANDREW PICKENS, B. G. Militia.
HENRY LEE, jun. Lieut. Col. Com.

Lieut. Col. BROWN.

(No. 6.)

Gentlemen,

THOUGH motives of humanity, and a feeling for the distresses of individuals, incline me to accede to what you have proposed concerning the prisoners with us, yet many reasons, to which you cannot be strangers, forbid my complying with this requisition;—such attention as I can, consistent with good policy and my duty, shall be shewn them. I have the honour to be, &c.

THOMAS BROWN, Lieut. Col. commanding K. T. at Augusta.

B. G. Pickens, and
Lieut. Col. Lee.

(No 7)

Gentlemen, Fort Cornwallis, June 5, 1781.

IN your summons of 3d instant, as no particular conditions were specified, I postponed the consideration of it to this day.

From a desire to lessen the distresses of war to individuals, I am inclined to propose to you my acceptance of the inclosed terms, which, being pretty similar to those granted by the commanding officers of the King's troops to the commanding officers of the American troops and garrison in Charlestown, I imagine will be honourable to both parties. I have the honour to be,

Gentlemen, your most obed. and most hum. Servt.
THO. BROWN, Lieut. Col. com K. T.
B. G. Pickens. at Augusta.
Lieut. Col. Lee.

(No. 8)

SIR,

THERE was a time when your proposals of this date might have been accepted. That period is now passed. You had every notice from us, and must have known the futility of your further opposition.

Altho' we should be justified by the military of both armies to demand unconditional submission, our sympathy for the unfortunate and gallant of our profession has induced us to grant the honourable terms which we herewith transmit. We have the honour to be, &c.

ANDREW PICKENS, B. G. M.
HENRY LEE, jun. Lieut. Col. com.
Lieut. Col. Brown. Cont. Troops.

(No. 9)

Gentlemen, Fort Cornwallis, June 5, 1781.

YOUR propositions relative to the officers of the King's troops and militia being admitted to their paroles, and the exclusion of the men, is a matter I cannot accede to. The conditions I have to propose to you are, that such of the different classes of men who compose this garrison be permitted to march to Savanna, or continue in the country, as to them may be most eligible, until exchanged.

I have the honour to be, &c.
THO. BROWN, Lieut. Col. com. K. T.
B. G. Pickens. at Augusta.
Lieut. Col. Lee.

(No. 10)

SIR, Augusta, June 5, 1781.

IN our answer of this morning we granted the most generous terms in our power to give, which we beg leave to refer to as final on our part.

We have the honour to be, &c.
ANDREW PICKENS, B. G. M.
HENRY LEE, jun. Lieut. Col. com.
Lieut. Col. Brown. Cont. Troops.

(No. 11)

Gentlemen, June 5, 1781.

AS some of the articles proposed by you are generally expressed, I have taken the liberty of deputing three gentlemen to wait upon you for a particular explanation of the respective articles. I have the honour to be, &c.

THO. BROWN, Lt. Col. Com. K. T.

"SIR, Georgetown, May 29*th*, 1781.

"IN my last I acquainted you with my intention of marching to this place, yesterday I arrived, and immediately began to open an intrenchment, but the enemy thought proper to slip on board of their vessels at 9 o'clock at night, and fall down towards the bar. They had a galley, two gun boats, and an armed schooner. I immediately took possession of the redoubt and town. In the first were three nine pounders and a carronade, their trunnions knocked off and spiked, and their baggage all carried off.

"I shall only stay to level the works, when I will immediately cross Santee River, take post near Monks Corner, and wait your orders.

"The enemy's leaving this post has saved a great deal of provision, will prevent the tories from destroying our friends, and leave them at leisure to pursue their planting.

"It cannot be conceived the joy this event has given our friends. I have the honour to be,

Your obedient Servant,
Hon. Maj. Gen. Greene. FRANCIS MARION."
